Beneath the surface of the warm, crystal-clear ocean lies a breathtaking[1] world known as the coral reef. Often called a "colorful underwater city," the reef is home to thousands of marine species, from graceful sea turtles to tiny, brightly-colored fish. These ecosystems are incredibly diverse[2] and provide essential shelter, food, and protection for ocean life.

Coral reefs grow slowly over thousands of years, but they are surprisingly fragile[3]. Pollution, climate change, and destructive fishing practices pose[4] serious threats to these natural wonders. When conditions are poor, corals bleach[5], losing their vivid[6] colors, and becoming lifeless. In contrast, a healthy reef is alive with motion and brilliant colors.

Marine biologists work tirelessly to protect coral reefs. Their efforts include educating communities and promoting eco-friendly tourism. As the saying goes, "a stitch in time saves nine"—acting early can prevent long-term damage. We must act now, before the reefs become a thing of the past.

Some people may underestimate[7] the importance of coral reefs, but they are priceless. They not only support marine life, but also protect coastal areas from storms and erosion[8].

With renewed effort and widespread awareness, we can help these underwater cities recover and thrive[9] again. Every little action makes a difference—because in the ocean, everything is connected.

Whales are some of the ocean's most grand(1) creatures, yet today many species face critical threats. These gentle giants, known for their haunting(2) songs and massive size, are struggling against human-made dangers. Noisy ship traffic disrupts(3) their communication, while deadly fishing nets trap them accidentally. Pollution makes their migratory journeys even more hazardous(4).

But there's hope. Dedicated(5) scientists are working tirelessly to protect them. Using non-invasive(6) drones, they track whale movements without disturbance. Stricter laws now ban harmful sonar in protected areas, and conservation groups rescue entangled whales. Even small actions, like reducing plastic waste, help preserve their fragile habitats.

Why does this matter? Whales play a vital role in our ecosystem(7). Their survival ensures healthier oceans for all. So next time you see a news story about these magnificent(8) animals, remember—their future depends on us.

لاحظ

1 يمكن أن يأتى الحال قبل الصفة وفى هذه الحالة لا نضع hyphen لأنه ليس صفة مركبة مثل:

We watched a very interesting movie.

2 إذا كان من الممكن وضع and بين الكلمتين لا نضع hyphen مثل:

I have a big red car.

- ولكن نضع الـ hyphen إذا لم نستطع وضع and مثل:

He is a world-famous expert.

-وهكذا الجملة الآتية:

It's an old coal-mining town.

إنها مدينة قديمة لتعدين الفحم

فلو وضعنا hyphen بين old وcoal لكان المعنى (فحم قديم) ولكن القصد من الجملة هو أن المدينة هى القديمة، ولذلك يمكن القول:

The town is old and a coal-mining one.

The ocean is home to a wide variety of amazing creatures. Some are deep-sea animals that live in complete darkness, using glow-producing[1] organs to attract prey. Others, like dolphins, are intelligent and social, often seen diving through the waves in coordinated[2] groups.

Sharks have an unbelievable sense of smell and can detect a single drop of blood from miles away. Despite their reputation, most sharks are not dangerous to humans. In fact, many species are endangered because of overfishing and pollution.

Coral reefs are another awe-inspiring[3] part of marine life. These colorful underwater ecosystems are built by tiny animals called coral polyps. They support thousands of marine species and are often referred to as the "rainforests of the sea". Sadly, rising sea temperatures and human activities have caused coral bleaching, putting these habitats at risk.

Sea turtles are known for their long-distance migrations and their strong connection to the beach where they were born. After hatching[4], baby turtles face a hard-to-survive journey to the sea. Many do not make it.

Marine biologists work hard to protect the ocean. They study fast-changing environments and create awareness about conservation. Protecting marine life is not just important— it's life-saving.

It's clear that we cannot afford to underestimate the value of the ocean, if we turn a blind eye to the damage being done, we might find ourselves in deep water—literally[5] and figuratively[6].

Choose the correct answer from a, b, c, or d:

(5) معرض للخطر

Scientists emphasize that the ocean is full of life, even more than the land we live on. Every deep-sea journey shows us new wonders from this hidden world.

In warm tropical[2] seas, brightly colored fish swim through coral reefs, while slow-moving turtles glide gracefully through the water. Dolphins use high-pitched[3] sounds to talk to one another, and whales sing long-distance songs that can travel for miles.

Deeper in the ocean, the water becomes ice-cold and really dark. Unusual creatures survive there, some with light-producing bodies that help them find food.

Sadly, the underwater world faces many human-made problems. Plastic-filled waters, overfishing[4], and fast-rising temperatures damage marine life. Coral reefs are dying, and sea animals are losing their safe spaces.

To protect this fragile but beautiful environment, countries build protected marine areas. Scientists study endangered[5] species, and people are encouraged to use eco-friendly habits like recycling. Working together, we can keep the underwater world safe for future generations.

Extra POINTS

نقاط إضافية على الصفات المركبة:

هنـاك بعـض النقـاط المحـيرة فى القاعـدة التى تنص على أن الصفات المركبـة Compound Adjectives يفصـل بينها بواصـلة hyphen إذا سبقـت الاسم ولا يأتى معها واصـلة hyphen إذا جاءت بعد الاسم الذى تصفه ولكن هنـاك حالات استثنائية. يجب العلـم بها لتعلقها بسؤال punctuation.

حالات عدم وضع hyphen للصفة وهى قبل الاسم:

1 إذا كـان هنـاك حال منتهٍ بـ ly وأيضًا إذا كـان هنـاك الحـال very.

Adverb حـال + past participle

a badly written story	قصة مكتوبة بشكل سيئ
a nicely decorated room	غرفة مزينة بطريقة لطيفة
a widely recognized expert	خبير معروف على نطاق واسع
a densely populated country	بلد ذات كثافة سكانية عالية
a highly respected man	رجل محترم للغاية

Adverb حـال + present participle

rapidly growing weeds	أعشاب سريعة النمو
quickly fading memories	ذكريات تتلاشى بسرعة

Adverb حـال + adjective

an unusually talented student	طالب موهوب بشكل غير عادى

وهذه القاعدة لا تنطبق على الصفات المنتهية بـ ly مثل:

a friendly-looking man	رجل ذو مظهر ودود

2 إذا جاء قبل الصفة محددات المقارنة والتفضيل مثل more/most/less/least.

the most brilliant singer	المغنى الأكثر براعة
better prepared performers	مؤدون (عازفون) أكثر استعدادًا

3 إذا كانت الصفة تحتوى على اسم علم واسم العلم نفسه مكون من كلمتين تبدآن بحرف كبير، مثل:

South American coffee	قهوة أمريكية جنوبية
Alexandre Dumas novels	روايات الكسندر دوماس
United States policy	سياسة الولايات المتحدة

أما إذا كـان الاسم العلـم مدمجًا مع كلمة عادية مثـل: -based, -style, -made فنضع واصـلة.

an American-style pizza	بيتـزا على الطـراز الأمريكـى

أو إذا كان اسمان علمان مختلفان تربطهما علاقـة نضع واصـلة:

Egypt-Syria relations	العلاقـات المصـرية السـوريـة

4 عندما يكون المعنى واضحًا ولا غموض فيه مع العبارات المشهورة لدى الجميع ليكون الأسلوب أكثر سلاسة وإن كان وضع hyphen ليس خاطئًا ليعتاد الطالب على القاعدة الأصلية:

high school student	طالب فى المدرسة الثانوية
twentieth century literature	أدب القرن العشرين
One hundred pound note	ورقة نقدية فئة المائة جنيه

حالات وضع hyphen للصفة وهى قبل الاسم:

نضع hyphen للصفات المركبة الآتية حتى ولو كانت بعد الاسم:

1 الصفات المركبة التى تبدأ بالبدايات (self/ cross/ all) prefix:

self-confident	واثق من نفسه
self-employed	يعمل لحسابه الخاص
self-centered	أنانى
self-educated	مُثقف ذاتياً أو مُتعلم ذاتياً
self-evident	بديهى «واضح بذاته».
self-conscious	خجول أو قلق بشأن نظرة الآخرين له.
cross-cultural	عابر للثقافات
cross-functional	متداخل الاختصاصات
cross-platform	يعمل على منصات مختلفة
cross-sectional	مقطعى «دراسة لمجموعة فى وقت واحد».
all-inclusive	شامل لكل شىء
all-important	بالغ الأهمية
all-knowing	كلى العلم
all-purpose	متعدد الأغراض

Before the noun: He is a self-confident teacher.
After the noun : The teacher is self-confident.

2 الصفات التى تنتهى بـالنهايات الاتية (free - based - style):

This chewing gum is sugar-free.	هذه العلكة خالية من السكر.
I want my retirement to be stress-free.	أريد أن يكون تقاعدى خالياً من التوتر.
The new teaching methods are evidence-based.	أساليب التدريس الجديدة قائمة على الأدلة.
Most of our company's data is cloud-based.	معظم بيانات شركتنا تعتمد على التخزين السحابى.
The decoration in the living room is country-style.	الديكور فى غرفة المعيشة على الطراز الريفى.
The dinner tonight will be Italian-style.	عشاء الليلة سيكون على الطراز الإيطالى.

أما إذا كانت كلمة style ليست كلمة مضافة إلى كلمة أخرى وكانت من أصل الكلمة فلا تأخذ hyphen مثل lifestyle فهذه متعارف عليها فى القاموس إنها كلمة واحدة.

3 الصفات التى أصبحت «صفة مركبة دائما» لكثرة استخدامها فى القواميس فأصبحت تُكتب بالواصلة دائماً لمنع أى لبس فى المعنى، ومنها:

well-known مشهور/ good-looking وسيم / part-time دوام جزئى / full-time دوام كلى/long-lasting طويل الأمد/ brand-new جديد تماماً

The boy is good-looking.
His job is part-time.

الواصلة أصبحت جزءًا لا يتجزأ من هوية الكلمة سواء جاءت قبل الاسم أو بعده، حيث يفضل الكثيرون كتابتها بالواصلة دائمًا للحفاظ على شكلها المعتاد؛ لأن الهدف الأساسى من الواصلة هو منع اللبس والغموض.

4 ونضع الواصلة للصفة المركبة بعد الاسم إذا كان حذفها سيغير المعنى تمامًا ولا يفهمه البعض.

The patient is light-headed.

لو كتبناها light headed قد تعني أن رأسه «خفيف الوزن» أو أن هناك «ضوءًا مسلطًا (يشعر بدوار) على رأسه». لذا الواصلة هنا تحمي المعنى.

ملاحظات هامة

5 تتكون بعض الصفات المركبة من ثلاث كلمات أو أكثر ومنها:

a hard-to-survive journey	رحلة يصعب النجاة منها
a down-to-earth person	شخص واقعي ومتواضع
a larger-than-life character	شخصية استثنائية out-of-date information	معلومات قديمة
an up-to-date report	تقرير حديث
a matter-of-fact tone	نبرة واقعية/جادة
a top-of-the-range car	سيارة من الطراز الأول
round-the-clock service	خدمة على مدار الساعة
a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity	فرصة تأتي مرة واحدة في العمر
a middle-of-the-road policy	سياسة معتدلة
a take-it-or-leave-it offer	عرض «اقبله أو اتركه»
ready-to-wear clothes	ملابس جاهزة للارتداء

6 لابد من اختيار الصفة المركبة بصيغة المفرد، لكن هناك صفات مركبة تأتي بصيغة الجمع مثل customs و sales لأن المفرد منها يأتي بمعنى مختلف.

The company is famous for its excellent after-sales service.

فلا يصح استخدام sale لأنها تغير المعنى ~~after-sale service~~.

MODEL SHORT STORY

Last summer, my family visited the Red Sea. I love snorkeling more than anything. One morning, I swam farther out than I should have, eager to spot a sea turtle. The water was crystal-clear, and the sun was bright. But then, a strong current pulled me away from the beach, and before I knew it, I was lost in the vast, blue sea.

I started to panic. My heart was beating fast, and the shore was just a faint line in the distance. Suddenly, I saw a large, dark shape moving beneath me. I was terrified, thinking it was a shark. But as it came closer, I saw it was a graceful sea turtle—much larger than any I had ever seen. It had old eyes and unusual, glow-producing markings on its shell that shone in the deep blue water.

It didn't swim away. Instead, it stayed near me, almost as if it was checking on me. Remembering what a guide had once said—that sea turtles are gentle—I slowly reached out and held onto the edge of its shell. To my amazement, it began to swim, pulling me gently but surely. It was an awe-inspiring and peaceful journey. We passed brightly-colored fish and fast-moving dolphins, but the turtle never stopped, guiding me through the water.

Finally, I felt my feet touch sand. I was back in shallow water, close to my family's spot on the beach. I let go of the turtle, and it turned to look at me one last time before diving back into the deep blue. I was safe. I will never forget the old-looking turtle that helped me. Now, every time I see the sea, I remember that we must protect its creatures, for you never know when you might need a guardian from the deep.

1 Read the following passage, then answer the questions:

Our oceans are full of life—colorful fish, giant whales, playful dolphins, and quiet sea turtles. One of the most beautiful parts of the ocean is the coral reef. Coral reefs are like underwater cities. Thousands of creatures live there—from tiny shrimp to big sharks. Corals may look like plants, but they are actually animals. They grow slowly and need clean, warm water to survive. Sadly, our oceans are in danger. Pollution from plastic, oil, and chemicals hurts sea life. Fishing with big nets catches too many fish—even baby fish. Climate change warms the water, which makes corals turn white and die. This is called "coral bleaching."

But we can help! First, stop throwing trash in the sea—especially plastic. Use reusable bags and bottles. Second, choose seafood that is caught the right way—look for "sustainable" labels. Third, don't touch or step on coral when swimming or diving. Fourth, support groups that protect the ocean. Finally, tell others what you've learned. Small actions add up!

The ocean gives us oxygen, food, and beauty. It's not just water—it's home to millions of creatures. If we protect it today, our children will enjoy it tomorrow.

2 Read the following passage, then answer the questions:

For decades, the age of the Earth has been a major conflict between science and religion. The Earth is a huge ball covered with water, rocks, and soil, and it is surrounded by air. Throughout advances in science, geologists have learnt more and more about the Earth and have been able to unravel mysteries and expand our knowledge of our planet. We believe that Earth is about 4.6 billion years old. At present, we are forced to look at other bodies in the solar system to know what the early history of the Earth was like.

Studies of our moon, Mercury, Mars and the large satellites of Jupiter and Saturn have provided ample evidence that all these large celestial bodies were bombarded by smaller objects in a wide variety of sizes shortly after the larger bodies had formed. This same bombardment must have affected Earth as well. The linear record indicates that the rate of impacts decreased to its present low level about 4 billion years ago. On Earth, subsequent erosion and crustal motions have demolished the holes that must have formed during this period.

Scientists estimate the Earth's age by measuring the ratios of various radioactive elements in rocks. The oldest Earth rocks dated so far are about 3 billion years old. But no one knows whether these are the oldest rocks on Earth. Tests on rocks from the moon and on meteorites show that these are about 4.6 billion years old. Scientists believe that this is the true age of the solar system and probably the true age of the Earth.

Read the following passage, then answer the questions: (الاسترشادى السابع)

Deep within the heart of the Amazon rainforest, a team of biologists made a remarkable discovery. They found that trees communicate through underground networks of fungi called mycorrhizae. These fungi act as natural messengers, transferring nutrients and chemical signals between plants. When a tree is under attack by insects or disease, it releases distress signals through its roots. Nearby trees, sensing the warning, begin producing protective chemicals even before the danger reaches them. This incredible process, known as the "Wood Wide Web," reveals that forests are not silent—they are full of quiet conversations beneath the soil.

Scientists discovered that stronger trees sometimes share nutrients with younger or shaded trees, ensuring their survival and maintaining balance. This natural cooperation challenges the traditional belief that plants compete for resources; instead, they form a vast, interdependent community. Through advanced sensors and data modeling, researchers confirmed that these exchanges happen continuously, especially in times of stress. The discovery has inspired innovations in environmental science and biotechnology, as engineers explore ways to mimic this system in sustainable farming and data networks.

It also deepens our understanding of how ecosystems sustain themselves and how fragile they become when disrupted. Every tree, leaf, and drop of rain contributes to a living orchestra that keeps the planet alive. The forest, therefore, is not merely a group of trees— it is a dynamic network of life built on cooperation, balance, and resilience. By protecting forests, humanity protects its own source of air, water, and inspiration, ensuring that this hidden symphony continues to play for generations to come.

One day, before sleeping early to go to school, I was reading an exciting story about the sea world. I meditated and said, "Why don't we have an adventure like that?" So immediately, I phoned my friends and arranged to rent a boat and sail in the sea. Some of my friends agreed, but others refused as the weather forecast predicted a storm. Those of my friends who did accept my invitation were very enthusiastic.

On a very cold morning, we set off, taking all our needs with us. We sailed for a long time without any trouble. But suddenly, everything turned upside down when the strong waves were near us. One of my companions advised us to go back to the beach quickly, but it was too late. How could we react in such a serious situation?

I suggested sailing quietly till the waves calmed down; others suggested sailing quickly to get out of this area. We tried hard to use the radio to call for help, but there was no signal. Unfortunately, one of my companions fell into the water and we couldn't save him. I felt something worse would happen and sadness overwhelmed us all.

Suddenly, the ship was hit by a huge shark. After a long time of struggling, the shark moved away. An hour later, hope began to appear on the horizon when we heard the sound of a helicopter.

We waved a lot, but they couldn't see us. Eventually, we were found by some sailors on a ship who succeeded in getting us out of this sticky situation.
