Discover Your Future!

In the past, many jobs depended on physical effort. Workers were expected to use their strength in industries like farming, manufacturing, or construction(1). Today, however, workplaces increasingly have machines perform these tasks. Companies often get advanced systems to complete repetitive(2) jobs, allowing human workers to focus on tasks that require creativity and judgment.

(1) البناء (2) متكرر
(3) يشارك (4) تعاون
(5) مؤسسات (6) عقلية

As roles change, employers now have staff develop soft skills, including critical thinking, communication, and emotional intelligence. These abilities cannot be replaced by machines and are essential in modern work environments. For instance, many organizations get their teams to participate(3) in problem-solving workshops or online training programs to improve collaboration(4).

Digital transformation also means businesses frequently have employees trained in digital literacy, data management, and remote work tools such as "Zoom" and "Google Meet". Workers who want to stay ahead of the curve must be open to continuous learning and ready to think outside the box.

Governments and educational institutions(5) also play a role. They get training programs designed to help students prepare for roles that technology can't fully handle. The focus is no longer on physical strength but on mental flexibility and human insight. Those who want to climb the career ladder must build a mindset(6) of growth and learning.

Choose the correct answer from a, b, c, or d:

In the future, the workforce will look very different. Technology and artificial intelligence (AI) will take over many routine tasks. As a result, workers will need to focus on skills that machines cannot easily copy. These include creativity, problem-solving, communication, and emotional intelligence(1). People will also need to keep learning new things to stay up to date. Jobs in healthcare, green energy, and technology are expected(2) to grow quickly. Teamwork and flexibility will be important as people work with others from different places and backgrounds(3). Remote work and digital tools will become more common, so digital literacy(4) will be essential. In short, future workers must be adaptable(5), ready to learn, and able to work with both people and technology.

The Power of Human Connection

We are now in the year 2045, the world had changed in ways no one expected. Technology had advanced[1] so far that it could do almost everything people once did. Digital systems diagnosed illnesses with perfect accuracy[2], automated assistants wrote flawless[3] contracts, and machines composed music that moved people to tears. As a result, many jobs in factories, offices, and even creative fields disappeared. In response, governments introduced basic income[4], and schools began teaching "future-proof[5]" skills.

(1) تقدمت (2) دقة
(3) بلا عيوب (4) دخل
(5) مقاوم للتقادم (6) عاطفة
(7) سحر (8) يقلد
(9) فضولى

Yet in a quiet corner of Cairo, a small café remained a place of warmth and humanity. Every Friday afternoon, children gathered around an elderly woman named Amina, who told stories in a way no machine could match. Parents often said her stories had something special—a deep emotion[6], a human spark, and a magic[7] no program could imitate[8].

One rainy afternoon, Dr. Sami, a leading engineer, visited the café. His newest creation had just won a prize for storytelling, but many readers still said something was missing. Curious[9], he asked Amina, "Let my system analyze your storytelling. I want to understand what makes yours so special."

Amina agreed. She told a story about a lonely moon and a brave firefly. The system collected everything—metaphors, plot twists, emotions—but it couldn't capture the gasps, smiles, and wide eyes of the children.

When she finished, Dr. Sami stared at his results. "We can copy the words," he said softly, "but we can't restore the passion."

The rapid change in technology

(1) قديم (2) بحجم الجيب
(3) شَخَّص (4) الذكاء الاصطناعى
(5) اعتماد مفرط

Technology is changing faster than ever before. Every year, new devices appear and old ones quickly become outdated[1]. Smartphones are now pocket-sized[2] computers, and powerful apps connect people across the world in seconds. Teachers emphasize that today's students use technology for learning, while doctors have patients diagnosed[3] more accurately by machines. Explain that machines help them diagnose patients more accurately. At the same time, workplaces are also changing. Many companies now use advanced machines, robots, and artificial intelligence[4] to have tasks finished faster. A factory manager said that robots could work all day without rest, and an engineer added that new machines were improving production every month. People everywhere notice that technology makes life easier but also requires constant learning. However, rapid change brings challenges. Some jobs disappear, and workers must learn new skills. Scientists warn that people should use technology responsibly to avoid risks like pollution or over-dependence[5] on machines. Still, many experts emphasize that if humans use technology wisely, it can create opportunities, save time, and improve the quality of life. The future depends on how we adapt to this fast-moving world. All people will have different jobs done at homes and at work. Doctors, engineers, and teachers will make robots help them at any time.

A: Did you have your meal prepared?

B: No, I didn't (have it prepared). I prepared it myself.

وبالنسبة لباقى الأزمنة فعند النفى أو السؤال نستخدم الفعل المساعد أو الناقص الذى يتم استخدامه فى تكوين الجملة المثبتة.

Are you going to have your tooth pulled out by the dentist?

Have you had your car checked at the garage?

Will you have your house painted?

3 تستخدم get بدلًا من have لتفيد الصعوبة أحيانًا.

He finally got the seats booked.

4 يمكن القول إن have تعامل مثلها مثل أى فعل فى الجملة؛ فلو جاءت مكان فعل مضاف إليه ing فإننا نستخدم having وإن جاءت مكان فعل فى المصدر نستخدم have وإن كان الفعل مسبوقًا بـ to فإننا نستخدم to have مثل:

She likes cleaning her house.

She likes having her house cleaned.

She'd like (likes) to clean her house.

She'd like (likes) to have her house cleaned.

5 هناك استخدام غير رسمى للفعل have + object + v-ing وهو يعبر عن تجربة معينة وكان الفعل مستمرًا فى الحدوث وليس بسيطًا مثل:

It's lovely to have the children playing in the garden again.

I looked up and found we had water dripping through the ceiling.

6 ليس دائمًا استخدام اسم غير العاقل بعد have/ get فى المجهول ولكن يمكن استخدام اسم العاقل أيضًا إذا وافق المعنى مثل:

If you keep making mistakes, I'll have you replaced.

7 هناك تعبيرات مثل have difficulty/ a hard time/ a trouble مع وجود have قبلها، إلا أنه يأتى بعدها الفعل مضافًا إليه ing وليس لها علاقة بالسببية.

I have difficulty finding a flat nowadays.

8 إذا حول الفعل make (الذى يأتى بعده المصدر) إلى المجهول فإننا نستخدم to قبل المصدر.

He made me clean the flat on my own.

I was made to clean the flat.

9 يمكن استخدام السببية فى جملة الأمر.

Have your car serviced by tomorrow.

(A) Reading Comprehension

قاموس بالكلمات الجديدة في قطع الفهم نهاية الكتاب.

1 Read the following passage, then answer the questions:

(الاسترشادى الثالث)

Heritage preservation is a critical aspect of preserving cultural and historical landmarks for future generations. The relationship between existing heritage and newly-built constructions is a complex one, as seen in the case of the Fortress Medicea in Siena, Italy. Built in 1561, the fortress symbolizes a historical defeat and holds significant meaning for local residents. Modern approaches to heritage preservation involve balancing the old with the new, ensuring that the identity of such landmarks is maintained while adapting them for contemporary use.

In Canada, the protection of heritage sites on Indian reserve lands has been a controversial issue. The summer of 1990 witnessed significant activism from Indian communities, particularly the Peigan, who protested against the construction of a dam that would flood sacred archaeological sites. The absence of federal legislation for heritage protection on Indian lands has created a legal vacuum, making it challenging to safeguard these sites under existing laws like the Indian Act.

In China, the conservation of urban cultural heritage is influenced by postmodernism, which emphasizes the cultural, historical, and social values of historical legacies. The challenge lies in finding methods that preserve these values while avoiding the dangers of commercial exploitation and negativism.

In Egypt, the preservation of ancient heritage reached a remarkable level during the construction of the Aswan High Dam in 1954. This meant that the Nile Valley would be flooded and that Abu Simbel would be submerged underwater, so plans were made to rescue it. The massive statues were cut into pieces and raised over 60 meters up the cliff, where they were attached to a concrete base. Today, the temples, which were re-opened in 1968, are an amazing combination of ancient and modern engineering.

2 Read the following passage, then answer the questions:

Last year, my friend Hamid and I decided to visit an old friend called Adam. We had first met Adam at Cairo University, but we lost touch with him when he moved to Thessaloniki in the north of Greece. I had always wanted to see Athens and so Hamid agreed to spend a few days there before we went to meet our friend. We decided to use an old guidebook of the city that my cousin, Sami, had given to me. It was supposed to be the best guide to the city. It seemed to be very detailed and it had a lot of maps.

At the time, I didn't realize that it had been more than twenty years since my cousin last visited Athens. If we had known that his book had been written in 2003, we wouldn't have used it! It told us to avoid a lot of hazardous places in the city, so we did. Adam later told us that those areas were fantastic. We should have realized that a lot of changes had been made to the city for the 2004 Olympic Games. Areas that had not been very interesting in 2003 became very interesting after they were improved. If we had known about them, we would have gone to see those areas for ourselves.

When we left Adam, he gave us an up-to-date and reliable new guide to Greece, which we used to visit some of the islands. You could also read it online and download maps and updates. It was fantastic! If I went traveling again, I would definitely use a guidebook.

Read the following passage, then answer the questions:

It is bad to have food stuck between your teeth for a long time as food attracts germs which produce acid, and acid hurts your teeth. Flossing helps to remove this food. This explains why flossing helps you keep your mouth healthy, but some doctors say that flossing can be good for your heart. It may seem strange that something you do for your teeth can have an effect on your heart. But doctors have some ideas about how flossing works to keep your heart healthy. One idea is that the germs that hurt your teeth can travel into the bloodstream and attack your heart. Another idea is that when there are too many germs in your mouth, the body tries to fight them, and the way the body fights these germs may weaken the heart.

Not every doctor agrees about these ideas. Some doctors think that the link between good flossing habits and good heart health is only a coincidence. A coincidence is the occurrence of two or more events at one time apparently by mere chance. For example, every time I wash my car, it rains. This doesn't mean that when I wash my car, I somehow change the weather. This is only a coincidence. Likewise, some doctors think that people who have bad flossing may have heart problems, and people who have good flossing may have healthy hearts. The theory that flossing your teeth helps to keep your heart healthy might not be true. But every doctor agrees that flossing is a great way to keep your teeth healthy.

Read the following passage, then answer the questions:

I live in a housing estate, just like all my neighbors. The one thing about living in a housing estate is that we have many neighbors.

Next to my house on the right lives a family whose parents seem to be always scolding the children. I do not know them very well because they always appear angry. Never a day passes without hearing the children crying and the parents shouting at the top of their voices.

On the other side of my house, however, lives a very quiet and polite family. Mr. Saber is a quiet man who seems to manage his family very well. Though he has four children, which is one more than the other family, I never hear him scold his children. So, his children never cry. Further down the road is a family whose radio is switched on most of the time, except late at night. Their immediate neighbors must have a tough time putting up with the noise of the radio. Then there is a family whose members seem to live in a world of their own. Many times, we have met along the road and not once has any of them even nodded his or her head in acknowledgement.

They are not blind or deaf. Yet they can walk straight past as if I were not there at all. I would not say that they are unfriendly. I guess they are simply not interested in knowing their neighbors. These are some of the neighbors living near me. There are others that I have yet to meet. However, I am careful not to intrude on their privacy. The friendly ones smile or raise their hands. The not-so-friendly ones look away. I have to live among them, friendly or not.
